DIGITAL POWER

Expense report regulations

Clarity on the (legal) rules

DP

Why these regulations?

We feel it is important to provide clarity on the (legal) rules that apply when claiming expenses. This way, there are no surprises when a situation arises and it is clear what our agreements are.

Commuting expenses

Commuting using private transport

If you are using private transport for commuting, which includes a bicycle, you will receive a € 0.23 net allowance per kilometre.

You can claim commuting kilometres through My InSite and the Expense reports button. In the Commuter- and lodgingexpenses tab, choose Kilometre reimbursement. You can claim the kilometres travelled using the Excel sheet that you can download via the 'Download file' button. In the Excel sheet, enter the following details:

- Your name at the top of the sheet
- Date/day of the trip
- Street, house number and city under From and To. Please note that you can only declare your commuting expenses from your home address according to Afas, not any address you may leave from (family, relationship, etc.)
- One way or return
- Number of kilometres one way: use the most common route on Google Maps for this. The most common route will be checked once by HR when you submit your first expense report. Please add a printscreen of this route with your first expense report. New route? Add a new printscreen
- Your description should specify that this concerns commuting kilometres
- Declare the number of kilometres: do not round off the numbers

Use Excel sheet

You register all trips per day under the 1st tab, 'Reimbursement'.
Under the 2nd tab, 'Addresses', you can add addresses so you can easily select them for the trips you are declaring.

Please note: provide the final destination of the address for all the addresses that you add in the 2nd column. For example, ‘home address’ or the customers you work for.

Commuting by public transport (OV)

If you do not have your own means of transport, Digital Power will reimburse the actual costs of public transport based on the costs for a 2nd class ride.

You can claim public transport costs through My InSite and the Expense reports button. In the Commuter- and lodgingexpenses tab, choose Public transport reimbursement. The claim must include a copy of the transport ticket or an overview of the journeys and costs incurred with the public transport (OV) chip card.

Please note: only statements of a registered OV-chip card are accepted and reimbursed.

NS Business Card

Digital Power can request an NS Business Card on your behalf. With an NS Business Card, payments for journeys are made afterwards with an invoice from NS to Digital Power. Topping up the NS Business Card is therefore not required.

Train journeys

Free train travel is possible, both for business and private purposes and across the Netherlands. Without additional costs. This is a subscription that is activated for you.

In order to be allowed to travel privately, at least 24 business travel movements (12 business return journeys) must be made per year. The travel movements are pro rata. If you use the NS BC for six months, you must make at least 12 business travel movements (6 business return journeys). The card can therefore never be used only for private travels. If the tax authorities have doubts about business use, the burden of proof lies with the user of the NS BC to demonstrate which journeys involved business. If a fine is imposed, this is for the user's account and will be deducted from the salary.

Please note: this applies to train journeys and not to journeys by bus, tram, metro and public transport bicycle.

Correction fee

Make sure you check in and out correctly. If you have not checked in or checked out correctly, you will not have a valid ticket and a correction fee will be charged. The costs of the correction fee are deducted from your salary.

Loss or theft

In case of loss or theft, you must have your NS Business Card blocked immediately. You can do this by contacting Anouk Lippinkhof directly. She has access to ‘Mijn NS Zakelijk’ in which the NS Business Card can be blocked. You are obliged to report the loss or theft of the NS Business Card to the police. Any costs resulting from loss or theft are for your own account and will be deducted from your salary.

Travelling on behalf of the client

When travelling on behalf of the client using your own means of transport (not being commuter traffic), consult the relevant Account Manager or Business Manager to make sure costs can (potentially) be charged to the client.

You can claim business kilometres and/or business public transport costs through My InSite, as described in 'commuting using private transport' and 'commuting by public transport (OV)'. Specify that this is about business travel costs and whether costs must be charged to the client.

Calculating the travel distance

The commuting distance is determined by the route planner of Google Maps (http://maps.google.nl). This is based on the most common route and the number of kilometres after the decimal point (not rounded off).

Travel expenses and legislation

Net travel allowances are subject to Dutch tax law. Digital Power reserves the right to adjust the agreements regarding the travel allowance in the event of changes in legislation.

Lease car

If using a lease car is required for the execution of your position/assignment, Digital Power will make it available. If you have been provided with a lease car, Digital Power's car regulations apply. When using the lease car, you must sign the loan agreement in advance. If you have been provided with a lease car, any public transport (OV) expenses (including the NS BC) will not be reimbursed.

Parking at the office

A limited number of parking spaces (8) are available at the Amsterdam office. Visitors must be registered with their license plate number in advance and on time . For more information, please contact Anouk Lippinkhof.

Parking costs

Parking costs for business purposes

If you have an appointment with a client for business purposes or a consultation of less than 8 hours a day, you may claim the parking costs.

Parking costs on location

When the client's location is your workplace for the day in question, you cannot claim parking costs, unless you have prior approval from the relevant Account Manager or Business Manager. This is then considered a working day. You are expected to use free alternatives, or the parking costs will be at your own expense.

Having lunch and/or dinner with the client

Notify the relevant Account Manager or Business Manager of a business lunch or dinner in a timely manner. Then you can discuss the goal and desired outcome together.

Only lunches and/or dinners of a business nature may be claimed. This is not about lunches at the client's, but with the client. In case of full days of consultancy where the client's workplace is your workplace for that day, this counts as lunch at the client's and will therefore not be reimbursed. In case of doubt as to the business nature, the Commercial Manager will decide on whether the invoice will be reimbursed. Tips are reimbursed up to 5%.

You can claim lunch and/or dinner costs through My InSite and the Expense reports button. In the Food & beverages tab, choose Business lunch/dinner. You must attach a copy of the (cash) receipt with the claim. Include in the explanation whom you had lunch or dinner with.

Please note: a PIN (debit card) receipt without a description will not be accepted nor reimbursed. Alternatively, you can add your bank statement of the payment.

Gifts

Do you want to give a gift to (someone at) the client's, like a colleague who has had a child, to say goodbye to the client or for a jubilee or milestone that is being celebrated? Consult with the relevant Account Manager or Business Manager in advance.

You can claim gifts through My InSite and the Expense reports button. Select the correct type of claim in the Gifts tab. You must attach a copy of the (cash) receipt or invoice and a bank statement with the expense report. In the explanation, explain who the gift is for (in case of several persons all persons) and the occasion involved.

Please note: birthday gifts for the client's employees and contributions paid using the Tikkie app will not be reimbursed.

Hotel stays

If your assignment or an appointment is too far in terms of travel distance, you can discuss with the relevant Account Manager or Business Manager whether a hotel stay is sensible. Or if there is an event or a fair (abroad).

If possible, you can agree with the hotel that they send an invoice to Digital Power. It is important that the invoice is explicitly addressed to Digital Power B.V. in Amsterdam (H. J.E. Wenckebachweg 123, 1096 AM). Digital invoices (preferred) can be sent to invoices.nl@digital-power.com.

Business events

Do you have permission to attend a business event? Then you can claim all costs associated with the event. Below you will find some examples:

- If you are attending a place earlier in the day (event/fair/college), you may have to eat something in the evening
- If overnight stay(s) are required, dinners and breakfast can be claimed
- Travel costs for the event (car, public transport, boat, plane, etc.)

If you are having drinks with colleagues or guests of the event, then that is at your own expense. Drinks at an airport are also at your own expense.

Client's team outings

Are you joining a client's team outing on your own initiative and the costs are not being reimbursed by the client? Then the costs are at your own expense.

Cost of purchasing durable goods

Durable goods include books, software, licenses, online training/courses, video material and the like. In most cases, the purchase will be made by Digital Power, making the relevant good available on loan. This purchase can only be made in consultation with the responsible person concerned.

Operations Manager: books and video material
Development manager: textbooks and online training sessions/courses
Business Support Manager: software and licenses

All purchased (durable) goods remain the property of Digital Power at all times.

Submitting expense reports

Expense reports can be submitted and approved using My InSite. Expense reports are only approved if they have been submitted in full, i.e. if all fields have been completed and the correct receipts and/or invoices and attachments have been added and a full explanation has been provided.

The following rules apply to expense reports:

- Your expense report must be submitted no later than the 13th day of the month.
- Payment of expense reports are paid at the same time as the payment of the salary.
- Expense reports submitted after the 13th day of the month are not included in the relevant salary payment, but will be paid with the salary of the following month.

- If your expense report is incomplete, Digital Power cannot and will not proceed with reimbursement and will reject the relevant expense report, stating the reason. You will automatically receive an email about this. The expense report must then be completed through My InSite and submitted once again.
- All expense reports older than 2 months at the time of submission will not be paid out.
- All reimbursements mentioned in these regulations are paid to you subject to the applicable tax legislation and any statutory amounts to be withheld by Digital Power.
- In case of doubt, it is advisable that you inquire in advance with the Operational Manager whether the costs can be claimed.
- Any costs other than those described in these regulations can only be claimed upon the express approval of the management board.

Digital Power expressly reserves the right to unilaterally change the amount of (the aforementioned) reimbursement(s), for example if the applicable (tax) legislation gives cause to do so, without you being able to claim, in that case, any (other) form of reimbursement.

In case you are unable to perform your job for whatever reason (including suspension and occupational disability) for more than 4 weeks, any reimbursement(s) submitted during that period will not be refunded.