DIGITAL POWER

Hour regulations

When and how to book your hours

Hour registration

In the interest of Digital Power, such as to substantiate invoices, you are required to record the hours you work in the Afas/My InSite hour portal. You must keep accurate records of these hours and ensure that all your hours for that week are registered in Afas/My InSite by 18:00 each Friday afternoon.

Logging project hours (in advance)

All hours you work for a customer you have to log in the hour portal under the correct project code to ensure that all hours worked are invoiced to the relevant customer.

Once you have been added to a project, you must pre-book all project hours scheduled for you in the hour portal as soon as possible. This way, the commerce department knows which consultants are available at what time and for how many hours.

Non-billable hours

Non-billable hours may not be logged in advance. You must always log these hours afterwards, no later than Friday afternoon 18:00.

We have codes for the accounting of hours that we eventually cannot charge to the customer (or during customer time). However, always log as many hours as possible on customer projects. After all, the client is ultimately going to benefit from your newly acquired knowledge and skills. The first time you use one of these codes, you need to create it with item code 'B', otherwise you will get an error message.

Code	Description	Explaining the codes	Explanation required?
R	Recruitment	Conducting a job interview at the request of recruitment
P	Presales	Preparing an intake, presales interviews Intakes & presales interviews with new and existing customers
M	Marketing	Time spent developing marketing material. Such as blogs, podcasts, papers, etc. Representing Digital Power during events, trade fairs, guest lectures at universities of applied sciences, etc.
BEG	Coaching	Coaching by the buddy to consultant Golden Triangle coaching – feedback – TruQu

T	Training	Providing or following training sessions (internal knowledge transfer) organised by the Data Academy Developing internal training material on behalf of the Data Academy
SOS	Assisting colleagues	For assisting colleagues with issues that require your expertise
ZO	(Self)-development (incl. Meetups)	Online course agreed upon with the Development Manager Providing or attending Meetups/peer groups/knowledge sessions/etc.
B	Miscellaneous	All matters that cannot be specified within the above categories. Depending on the explanation, a possible conversion from Finance follows that you must implement.	Yes

Exceptions

- Always communicate all exceptions/deviations involving the customer in advance to the relevant Business Manager.
- Sometimes you may consider investing one more hour in the customer (presales), if this is a structural thing then have a project created by the relevant Business Manager.
- Cookie scan, Pressure cookers, Quick scan or tenders, the relevant Business Manager must always create a project for this; these hours cannot be logged on the above codes.
- If you are assigned an internal project, an internal project code must always be created for this by the relevant Business Manager, so that hours can be justified.
- (Sickness) leave, etc. must be requested using My InSite (not the hour portal).

Additional hours and overtime

Additional hours

Additional hours are hours up to the full-time maximum of 40 hours per week, if you work less than 40 hours per week. Additional hours can therefore only be made by people who do not have a 40-hour employment contract. Example: your working hours (the number of hours agreed upon in your employment contract) per week is 32 hours, your assignment is 32 hours and you work 40 hours a week. Then you have worked 8 additional hours.

Additional hours will be reimbursed to you 100% provided they exceed the working hours per week agreed in your employment contract and they are approved by the customer.

Overtime

Overtime are hours that you work more in excess of your full-time 40-hour week. Example: your working hours (the number of hours agreed upon in your employment contract) per week is 40 hours, your assignment is 40 hours and you work 42 hours a week. Then you have worked 2 overtime hours.

Overtime will be reimbursed 100% if approved by the customer.

How do you log additional hours in the hour portal?

Change the 'Type of hours' to 'Additional hours' (code M).

How do you log overtime in the hour portal?

Change the 'Type of hours' to 'Overtime' (code 100).

Payment for additional hours and overtime

Additional hours and overtime can be paid one month later than the month in which the additional hours or overtime were worked. The salary processing is closed on the 25th day of the month at the latest (or earlier if the 25th day of the month is on a weekend). Additional hours and overtime booked after that are automatically paid out with the next salary processing.

Checking hours weekly

All hours are checked weekly on Monday morning from 9 a.m. by the Office employee. If too few or too many hours have been logged or if there are any questions about the hours, you must respond to the question immediately, so that all hours are correctly registered in the time portal every Monday at 11 a.m. at the latest.

Tip!

Set a fixed calendar reminder on Friday (morning/afternoon) for your hours, to make sure you always log them on time.
